"A journey of thousand miles begins with a single step" - Lao Tzu

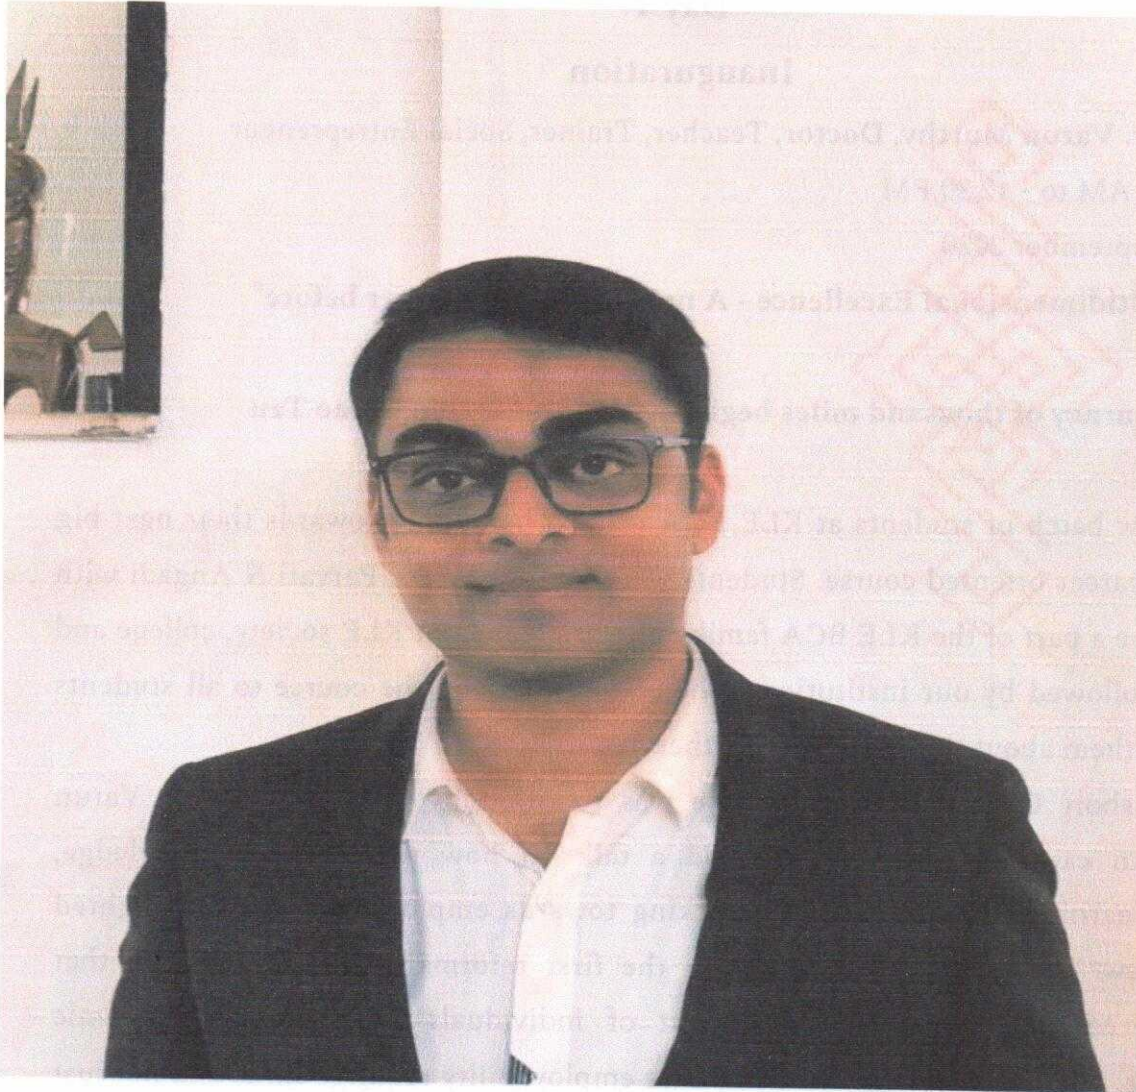

A new batch of students at KLE BCA made a beginning towards their next big step into a career oriented course. Students were greeted by Dr. Parvati N Angadi with warmth to be a part of the KLE BCA family. She briefed about KLE society, college and principles followed by our institutions. She also introduced the course to all students and briefed them about the syllabus and other details.

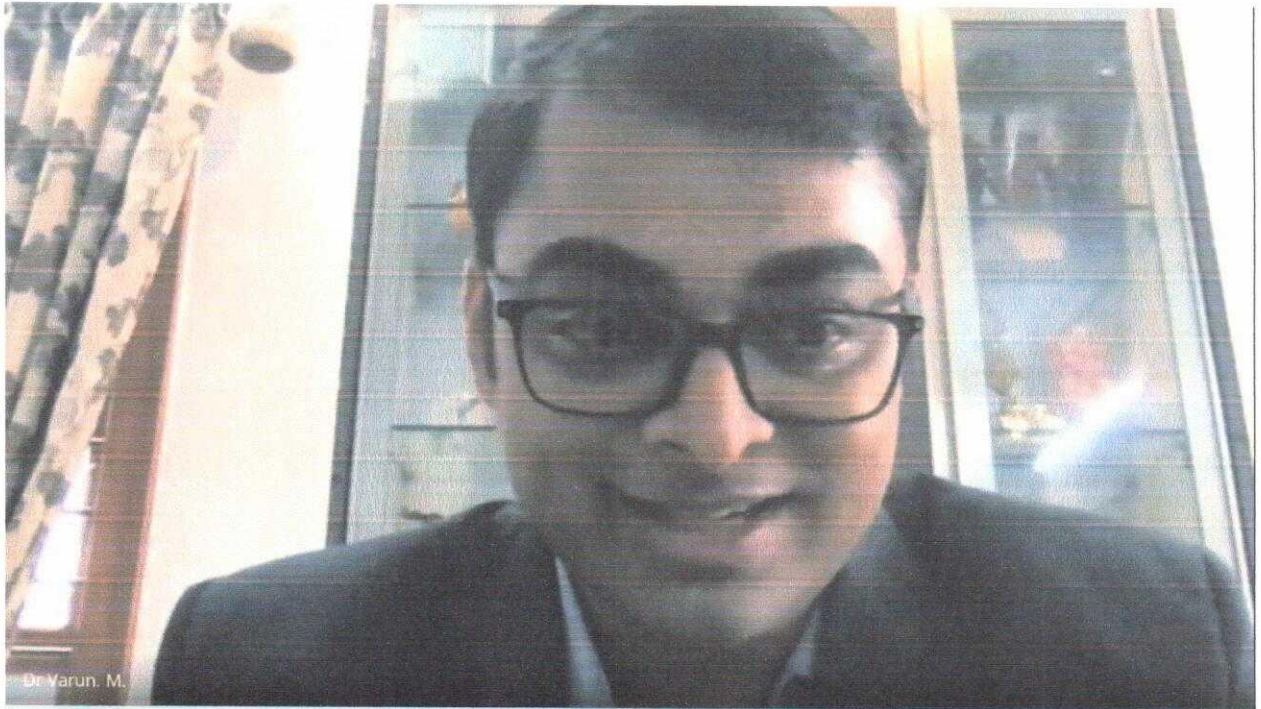

The short Orientation Programme was followed by a talk from "Dr. Varun Murthy". An excellent speaker delivered a talk on how to improve "Knowledge, education, learning" rather than just working towards employability. He highlighted that the New Education Policy has been the first reforms post independence that focuses on Multidimensional development of individuals and not just academic progress. Dr. Varun enlightened students that employability requires skills and not just academical knowledge. He made students understand that the scenario in today's world expects analytical skills from every successful individual. He also added, respect the other person, socialize with everyone around you; the person might have some bad qualities within him, but we must respect the knowledge he houses, by this, we grow to heights as a person. Demons do not get tired of working, Angels will always think good about everyone and sleep like there are no worries like a child. Dr. Varun concluded by saying “Work like a Demon, think like an Angel and sleep like a Child”.
